DRAMATURG'S NOTE

- Si Boudoin

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

We tend to shy away from reality. We don't want to see disturbing images or address difficult subjects that entered our public consciousness. We can't look a houseless person in the eye nor can we watch television commercials showing us what happens to stray pets. But what we can watch is fantasy. Science fiction, when done right, allows us to address the issues that affect us every day but from an ironic vantage point, allowing us to absorb the importance of the subject without turning a mirror on ourselves. When David and Jamiel brought this musical to my attention, I saw a deep and heartfelt parable of the strength of family but couched in a fantastical world enough that we won't know that we are being taught a valuable lesson until the curtain falls. I am so appreciative of David's lovely music, the cleverness of his lyrics, and the unbridled youthful passion of Jamiel and his company giving me a valuable opportunity to tell a story about the beauty and burden of community and how much it is needed these days, but cleverly draping it in the genre that I have loved for over 50 years.

THE “GALS” OF THE GALAXY FAMILY

YASMIN RANZ-LIND [she/her] (Milky Way) is NYC based and a recent graduate of Syracuse University with a BFA in Acting and minor in Political Science. She is a proud Middle Eastern/North African/American actor and singer. Favorite credits include: Amelia Earhart in a workshop reading of Airborn (Bridge to Broadway and Beyond Festival), Balthasar in Romeo and Juliet (Syracuse University) and Wendla in Spring Awakening (Ovations Theatre). She can be seen next originating the role of Chambermaid/Princess in the NYC Workshop of Allerleirauh at the Alvin Ailey Dance Theater in March! Endless thanks to her supportive parents, wonderful friends, TLJ and all of the mentors who have supported her throughout her theatrical journey thus far. She is thrilled to have the opportunity to collaborate on new works like ELLIPSES!

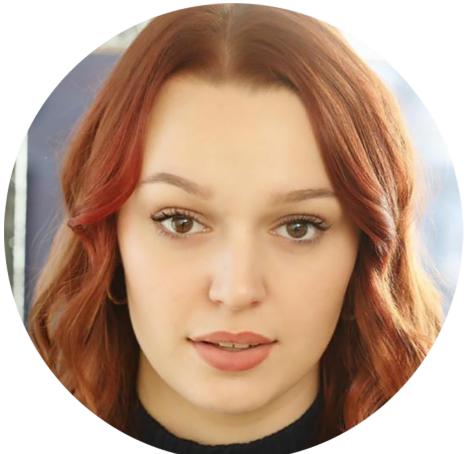

JASON SHU [he/him] (Violinist) is a classically trained violinist originally from Minneapolis, now based in New York City. Though the world of musical theater is relatively new to him, Jason has extensive experience playing in and leading ensembles of all sizes and varieties, and is excited to help contribute to ELLIPSES!

KRISTEN AMANDA VARGAS SMITH

[she/her] (Whirlpool) is a New York based artist with a BFA in Musical Theatre from Point Park University. Most recently, she was seen across the country in the national tour of A Charlie Brown Christmas Live on Stage as Patty! Some of her other credits include Wendla Bergman in Spring Awakening (Pittsburgh Playhouse), Georgia Hendricks in Curtains (Pittsburgh Playhouse), Starr in A Symphony for Portland (The Players Theatre). She is so excited to be a part of this cast! kristenamanda.com

CAITLYN SOMERVILLE [she/her] (Tidal,

Makeup Designer) comes from a small town in Colorado, so her exposure to theater was limited; however, she gravitated to the microphone and theatrical stage since before she can remember. She could always find herself performing at local competitions, fairs, sporting events, community theater and school productions. She knew in middle school when she landed her first ‘real role’ as Miss Adelaide from Guys and Dolls Jr. that she was hooked. After high school, she took a leap of faith and moved to New York City to attend the New York Conservatory for Dramatic Arts and never looked back. Bringing her small town ethics and beliefs to the big city was a huge change, one that she happily embraced. She finds each new experience and encounter an amazing life story that she can bring with her to the stage. She is dedicated and determined, striving to bring out the best in herself and those around her. caitlynsomerville.com

ELI WASSERTZUG [they/them] (Tidal) is an NYC-based actor and singer originally from Northern Virginia with a BA in Drama from Vassar College. In addition to Vassar, Eli has trained with Hangar Theatre, Powerhouse Theater, Synetic Theater, and Traveling Players Ensemble. Eli aims to create inclusive, collaborative, and spectacular theater that challenges entrenched systems of power, especially gender. eliwassertzug.com

ISAAC WILLIAMS [he/him] (HDI) is a New-York based actor from Junction City, Kansas. Isaac graduated from Missouri State University with a degree in Vocal Music Education and Theatre. After graduating in December 2021, Isaac made his spring NYC stage debut originating the lead role of Diego in “Mad Little Reefers.” This summer, Isaac also made his film debut in Konstantin Pivovar’s “Iconic” which will be submitted into the 2023 film festival cycle. In the Fall of 2022, Isaac debuted the show, “A Symphony for Portland” directed by Jay Michaels Off-Broadway. Most recently, he did a run of the “The Wiz” with the NYC Black Arts Festival as Tinman. isaacwilliams.me

THE “GALS” OF THE GALAXY FAMILY

ISABELLE WOOD [she/her] (Guitarist) is an actress, singer, and dancer based in New York City. She is originally from Columbia, South Carolina and is a recent graduate of The American Musical and Dramatic Academy in NYC where she studied Musical Theatre. She just recently finished shooting a pilot for a TV show called Clout, so hopefully you will be able to catch that on TV in the spring (fingers crossed)! This is one of her first performances in NYC and she is so happy that it is with her guitar. Playing guitar has led her to so many other passions and she's so excited to share that with you tonight.

DOMINIKA ZAWADA [she/her] (Stage Manager) is a singer, actress, and vocal coach, and new to New Amsterdam. A fan of organized chaos, she previously lived in ‘old’ Amsterdam, Netherlands, where she simultaneously ran a private singing studio and musical theater company, Happily Ever After Productions. Some of her credits both as a performer and a producer/music director include: Into The Woods (Cinderella), Ordinary Days (Claire), Working a Musical (Babe), Miss Julie (Miss Julie), Little Shop of Horrors (Music Director), Cabaret (Music Director), Avenue Q (Music Director), Ramaavan (PSM). For Dominika, being a part of this show is not just a job, it's a passion she feels incredibly grateful for the opportunity to work with such talented individuals.

NEW WORKS FESTIVAL DEVELOPMENTAL PROCESS

(August 23, 2022 — January 26, 2023)

August 23: Application

Milky Way Theatre Company posted a call for plays on their Instagram @milkywaytheatrecompany.

On August 26, David Quang Pham was made aware of the theatre company while at Don't Tell Mama, where Jamiel Tako L Burkhart produced Miscast Cabaret that night. David went to Don't Tell Mama with Christina Hemphill and her family after another production of her show A Symphony for Portland at The Players Theatre, where Jamiel played Aaron.

October 10: Acceptance into the First Annual New Works Festival

Masked by Tianna Davis and American ID Channel: Vol. 1 by Mx Hasberry were also selected and received this email:

"New Works Festival!!! Hello, CONGRATULATIONS! My name is Jamiel and I'm so happy to officially offer you and your fantastic shows a spot in the New Works Festival, currently planned for January 2023. I'd like to sit down with each of you this week and talk about next steps. Thank you and I hope to hear from you soon. Please confirm by this Friday, the 14th of October. :)"

October 12: First Meeting with Jamiel T Burkhart

David and Jamiel reconnected at Sunlight Studios on W 44th Street. David outlined his goals to work with an orchestrator on his music, narrow his script, and see it read in person.

October 12 – 23: Assembling the Team

David brought in Si as the dramaturg. He first met them at Dixon Place's production of Camille Thomas's paRenT PlÙs LOaNs, where Si served as the director, on September 16, 2022. A day before the acceptance into the festival, Si and David bump into each other while working in the same venue from different companies. Si was the only person on his mind when Jamiel asked who he wanted to bring in.

Jamiel brought in Jay as the director and Simon as the orchestrator. Respectively as an actor and the Covid Compliance Officer, Jamiel and David worked with Jay in the Players Theatre's production of Christina Hemphill's A Symphony for Portland. David and Jay interviewed and connected on their experiences in sci-fi.

November 5 – 23: Casting

Jamiel posted the casting call on Backstage and Google Form titled "The First Annual New Works Festival: Ellipses." Milky Way Theatre Company received over a hundred applicants. The creative team had three meetings centered on this.

November 5 – ongoing: Dramaturgy Meetups with Si Boudoin

The book started at 96 pages and wound down to 76 pages with Si's dramaturgical feedback. It took five sessions.

Si and David often met up online. One time, they visited Masquerade and discussed alternate endings for the story. David finally changed the ending after a year holding the draft, hearing Si's notes about its contemporary meanings.

November 5 – ongoing: Orchestral Painting with Simon Broucke

Simon was assigned to orchestrate 11 of the initial 26 musical numbers, which are performed at the reading. On December 4, Simon and David met up at Simon's apartment to play through every number. He and David added more music as there turned out to be more space for them. Jay often asks for music to be played as underscores which Simon effectively pulls out leitmotifs.

For four sessions, Si and Simon and David restructured HD's "I Want" song: "Cutting Edge (Make Myself Clear)." This narrowed the song length from over five minutes to about three minutes. The latest draft now incorporates Singularity and Gravity.

While Jamiel introduced Brandon Jackson and Isabelle Wood into the band, respectively as the percussionist and guitarist, Simon introduced Jason Shu as the violinist.

December 20: Table Read

The table read was held on Zoom at 6-9PM Eastern. It took 100 minutes.

During the talkback afterwards, the directors asked the performers to name the central theme of the musical with the first and majority saying "family" followed by "adulthood." The performers dove down into their personal experiences and their interpretation of the scientific concepts' connection to grounded humanity.

January 16 – 25: Rehearsals

Monday, January 16 at 4-10PM in ART/New York, Studio A

Wednesday, January 18 at 4-10PM in Dramatists Guild Foundation's Music Hall

Monday, January 23 at 4-10PM in The Players Theatre, Room 3B

Wednesday, January 25 at 4-10PM in Dramatists Guild Foundation's Music Hall

MilkyWay Theatre Company

As a New York City based theatre company, our purpose is to help artists grow and create new works, while staying true to the humanity that we all share on this tiny spec of a planet we all call home. In this vast galaxy, we want to guide the new generation of artists in joining the ranks of stars from around the world. Let's create the next generation of Broadway musicals and plays. Let's explore new projects with the next generation of performers. And let's bring together the next generation of dream teams that will spearhead these projects. That's our goal. And together we can do it!

History

MilkyWay Theatre Company was first founded by students at Marymount University as a company that gave NYC singers and actors the chance to perform in cabarets with themes ranging from Pop Divas to Miscast. Under new leadership, we have since expanded what we do to include new works written by up-and-coming playwrights from all over the country, as we aim to bring together stars from all corners of our galaxy to create theatre that speaks to our shared humanity. We just finished producing The First Inaugural New Works Festival, where three new plays and musicals were the center focus of our work:

Masked: The Musical by Tianna Davis

The American I.D. Channel: Vol. One by Mx. Hasberry

ELLIPSES by David Quang Pham

Leadership

Kiara ‘Kiki’ Sanichara (Executive Coordinator) is a student at Baruch College majoring in I/O Psychology and minoring in theatre. They have helped out behind the scenes of Baruch College’s production of “And Then There Was Us”, as well as two cabarets with MilkyWay. They enjoy working with and supporting ambitious artists, and they are excited to see MilkyWay Theatre continue to grow and prosper!

Claire Lees (Assistant Stage Manager) is a student at Baruch College pursuing an Arts Administration degree with a specification in theatre. She worked as an assistant stage manager for Baruch’s fall production of ‘The Scarlet Letter’ and is grateful for the opportunity to be a part of The First Annual New Works Festival and is thrilled for everyone to see the shows!

Aiden Feeney (Graphic Designer / Marketing Coordinator) moved up to NYC from Pittsburgh PA in August of 2022. Since then MilkyWay has given them an amazing opportunity to show my creative mind thru handling some of the social media designs! I’m excited to be working with such talented people!

Future

Jamiel T Burkhart, the Producing Artistic Director, is the driving force behind MilkyWay, along with Kiara Sanichara, the company's Executive Coordinator, helping him on the administrative end of things. Coming up for MilkyWay, there's a couple really exciting projects in the works this upcoming year and we can't wait to announce those very soon! Please support MilkyWay Theatre Company on Fractured Atlas by donating what you can and staying involved by letting us know what you want to see and by coming out to support our artists.

The Angels Have Always Been Black

by Aliyah Curry @_aliyaah_

The Angels Have Always Been Black is a metamorphosis of Black girlhood, queer sexuality, God, and family. Through a mix of traditional forms, as well as her own style of verse, the angels will take you up, then down, then up again, weaving hope through all the memories, beloved and triggering, before resting once again on the shelves of Mommy's freshly dusted mahogany shrunk.

This narrative is matured into Black womanhood on these wings, journeying home, earth, riverlands, and sky. Granny braids your hair, a new lover breaks your heart, and Black women prevail.

Finding Balance

bit.ly/BalanceAnotherWay

Hosted by Emileena Pedigo and David Quang Pham on Clubhouse

FINDING BALANCE is a series of weekly conversations on the dualities that are causing friction in the Arts, across discipline. Each week we pull a topic from pop culture to put through the Sustainability Cycle, an innovative approach to navigating uncertainty. We can't promise we'll find solutions to everything, but we can promise an hour and a half of presence, awareness, and mindful conversation.

PLAY IT BY EAR

A tale of digital intimacy

College sweethearts rise to the challenge of a long-distance relationship after circumstances force them to start their lives thousands of miles apart.

Play It By Ear examines the struggle all relationships face when trying to grow without growing apart.

This six-part mini-series shot between Amsterdam and Los Angeles will speak to anyone who has ever felt far away from someone they cared about.

COMING IN MAY!

“I love stories about families. Yours is truly the most unique I’ve seen.”

John Mabey, Award-Winning Playwright

July 15, 2021 at Working Title Playwrights Stage Reading

“I absolutely love this idea. The idea about a universe that’s a family drama... How incredible is that... It’s very unique and very original.”

Paul Gordon, Broadway Composer-Lyricist

October 17, 2021 at Theater Resources Unlimited Workshop

“This story is unique, fantastical, interesting, and important not just for its own sake but as a vehicle to make science more accessible.”

Emma Day, Curator/Music Director of Colorado New Musical Festival

July 21, 2022 at Brunner Farmhouse Concert Reading
